Precious metal calculations reflect a spot benchmark of USD 60.70/oz silver (Kitco, October 10, 2026). Note: Per-item values for the raw Silver Eagle group reflect typical bullion market pricing of approximately USD 64–72 each at current spot levels. Valuation basis: Pricing is based on recent confirmed sales for certified coins such as the

PCGS VF35 1909-S Indian Cent, PCGS Price Guide data for certified modern eagles and vintage silver, and market transactions for packaged annual sets via Greysheet Catalog Benchmarks. Raw 90% and 40% silver coins are evaluated using calculated intrinsic melt floors combined with prevailing numismatic premiums. --- Silver Spot Fluctuations: Over 23 troy ounces of pure silver are represented across the bullion eagles, 90% coinage, and 2005 silver proof set; every USD 5.00 change in silver spot shifts total collection value by approximately USD 115. Surface Condition of Raw Key Coins: If the 1857 Flying Eagle or 1881-S Morgan dollar exhibits harsh improper cleaning, their individual market values will drop toward wholesale levels (a potential USD 60–100 downward adjustment). Bullion Stack Quantity: The stack was visually counted at 19 coins plus 1 loose coin (20 total, standard mint roll); an exact count difference of plus or minus one coin adjusts the total by roughly USD 65. ---

Methodology: current market comparisons from the original saved analysis. Verify identity, condition, quantity and potential repeated photo views with a specialist before relying on values.
